Renaissance Baltimore Harborplace Hotel
Baltimore, MD
June 13 - 16, 2024

The Seal of the Catholic Theological Society of America

The first and fourth quarters of the shield are tinctured red, the color of the Humanity of the Lord, and the cross is gold, the color of his Divinity. The cross of our salvation is an appropriate charge with which to quarter the arms of the Catholic Theological Society of America. The open book refers to the Sacred Scriptures.

To represent Tradition, the four Doctors of the Church who support the Cathedra Petri, enclosed in a casing of bronze above the apsidal altar of St. Peter's Basilica in Rome, are represented by their symbols in the four quarters of the shield. Two are of the Latin and two are of the Eastern Church.

The beehive in the first quarter represents St. Ambrose, on whose lips as a young child a swarm of bees is said to have rested as a portent of his eloquence.

The symbol of the cross with the two rings in the second quarter represents St. Athanasius. Since "Athanasius" is from the Greek meaning "without death" or "immortality," a black field has been chosen to symbolize death and the cross is silver (white) to carry out the meaning of his name. Silver is the color of light and it is accentuated by being placed on a black background. The two circles, or rings, interlaced to symbolize unity in one person, represent the two natures in Christ, substantially joined, which Athanasius defended. They encircle the cross, the symbol of faith and of Jesus Christ, to bring to mind the Athanasian Creed which derives its title from this great Confessor and Doctor of the Church. The form of the cross used is Eastern, commonly known as the Greek cross.

The third quarter indicates St. John Chrysostom, Archbishop of Constantinople. His name means "golden mouthed." It is said that a snow-white dove flew into the church at his ordination. The beak of the dove has been tinctured in gold to symbolize his name. The black field was chosen to artistically balance the second quarter.

The fourth quarter bears the flaming heart with the two arrows to represent St. Augustine. This is the well-known symbol of the Bishop of Hippo.

The cross itself is the background for charges representing two recently declared Doctors of the Church. Passing behind the open book on the vertical arm of the cross is a red arrow. This represents St. Teresa of Avila, who described one of her spiritual experiences through the image of an angel wounding her heart with a dart. This transverberation, partly because of Bernini's depiction, became a common symbol of Teresa and her writings. A red quill pen, on the horizontal arm of the cross, represents St. Catherine of Siena. It calls to mind her writings and her authority. Its red color symbolizes Christ's redeeming us through the shedding of his blood, which is a theme prominent in her writings, as well as the gift of the stigmata which she received.

The chief, or the upper third of the shield, bears a golden sun on a white background. This is the symbol of St. Thomas Aquinas, Doctor of the Church and author of the Summa Theologiae. He is the patron of Catholic students, schools and universities. The stars represent Mary, the Mother of God, as "Stella Duce" and "Stella Maris," the guiding light of theological wisdom, and the "extirpator of all heresies."

Above the shield the lamp of learning and wisdom rests on a wreath to symbolize "Reason."

The order of the quarters follows chronologically the dates of birth of the four early Doctors. The first Latin Doctor, Ambrose AD 340, is in the first quarter; the second quarter portrays the symbols for Athanasius AD 296, the first Greek Doctor; in the third quarter Chrysostom AD 346, the second Greek Doctor; and in the last quarter Augustine AD 354, the second Latin Doctor. The Greek Doctors are placed between the Latin Doctors in the first and fourth quarters.

Land Acknowledgement

We, the Catholic Theological Society of America, acknowledge and recognize that we are on the ancestral and unceded homelands of many Indigenous nations. When Catholic settler colonizers arrived on the Ark and the Dove ships in 1634, they came into contact with the Iroquoian-speaking Susquehannock peoples and the Algonquian-speaking Piscataway peoples. As have their descendants, members of these nations have cared for the land and waterways on this portion of Turtle Island for millennia. We also recognize the Lumbee peoples who migrated to this territory in the mid-twentieth century, along with many other Indigenous peoples, to pursue work opportunities and to escape the increasing restrictions of Jim Crow segregation in North Carolina. Along with enslaved Africans from the Kongo, Angola, present-day eastern Nigeria, and the rice-growing Windward Coast that stretches from Senegal down to Sierra Leone and Liberia—these Indigenous and displaced nations stewarded the land and waterways that nourish and sustain us today.

We give thanks for the land and the waterways. We admire the delicious singing of the Atlantic coastal plain's numerous tributaries, especially the open-mouthed hymn of the Patapsco River. This great river's tidal portion forms the harbor for the City of Baltimore. It empties into the Great Chesapeake Bay, the largest estuary in the United States, the second largest on Turtle Island, and the third largest in the world. The Indigenous nations named this great river "Patapsco," which derives from the Algonquian pota-psk-ut and translates to "backwater" or "tide covered with froth." As guests in these overdeveloped backwaters, we are mindful of our responsibility to practice good relations with the land and water as elders and ancestors—past, present, and emerging—have done. We confess our complicity in historical and ongoing systems of oppression that render Indigenous peoples displaced and disenfranchised. Especially here in the former Catholic colony of Maryland, the Church internalized settler colonial and racist ideologies. We have adopted lifestyles that ignore Indigenous cultures and sustain Indigenous dispossession. Mindful of Pope Francis' repudiation of the Doctrine of Discovery in March 2023, and in a spirit of repentance and reconciliation, we resolve to work for healing and reparation in the face of the unjust experience of violence, enslavement, displacement, and dispossession known by Indigenous peoples here in Baltimore, and in the many communities where we live and teach.

We hope against hope that this land acknowledgment opens us up to learn from Indigenous cultural traditions that inform good stewardship of our environment and about various Indigenous movements for identity, freedom, and self-determination. Amen!

Priest-Secretary to the Archbishop of Baltimore

A Center of Excellence in 21st Century Priestly Formation

St. Mary's is the first Roman Catholic seminary in the United States. We are still preparing priests from across the nation and the world.

St. Mary's Seminary & University is looking to the future of priestly ministry in the United States.

St. Mary's has been forming priests in the Sulpician tradition since 1791. Our mission today as it will be tomorrow is to enable and support the formation of holy men, who are emotionally and psychologically mature, committed and equipped to meet fully the rigors of pastoral ministry in the twenty-first century with joy and authentic Christian witness.

The people of God deserve nothing less.

Rev. Phillip J. Brown, P.S.S.
President-Rector

The Sulpician mission is to prepare men to be outstanding parish priests.

St. Mary's Seminary & University places a well-balanced emphasis on each of the four dimensions of priestly formation: human, spiritual, intellectual, and pastoral.

Theology Sited in History and Culture

Our doctoral program offers a distinctive research focus locating the work of theology in history and culture with attention to the United States. Theology is at the center, but students examine other disciplines and practices: taking courses in history, theology, and cultural studies and conducting theological research with methods from the humanities and social sciences.
